

Competition #1: Build Your Own Website

TJ Dev Club

Did you say COMPETITION?

- Basically a mini-hackathon
- Restricted in technology you can use
- AWESOME PRIZES (depending on your definition)
- You will have until the end of this period to complete your project, but in future competitions this deadline will go on for much longer (weeks)

Did you say PRIZES?

Yes. Below are some prizes you may be able to choose from (subject to availability):

- 8x8 Canvas Portrait of Linus Torvalds
- Bulk Ethernet Cables
- Wifi Routers
- ...many more ~~weird~~ interesting prizes

Don't want interesting prizes? You can opt for keychains, stickers, food, or other knick-knacks.

What's the theme?

Drumroll please...

LITERALLY ANY WEBSITE 🙌

Quick Notes

- These competitions DO matter! Over the course of the year we'll build these up to give you a full resume. We will also be factoring effort into officer applications (so don't slack off!).
- You can ONLY use HTML and CSS (Tailwind is fine but it must be via inline script)
- If you want, you can submit your site to Boba to get a free $5 (but you must follow their requirements first)
